

Baseball PEI – 2026 Summer Clinics & Camps Report

The 2026 season marked our most successful year to date for Baseball PEI's free development clinics and camps. With an expanded team of clinicians, a dedicated Rally Cap Coordinator and a more regionalized approach to programming, we were able to reach more players, deliver more camps and provide greater access to development opportunities across the province than ever before.

Clinician Deployment & Regional Programming

Our expanded clinician team allowed us to operate multiple camps simultaneously in different communities, increasing accessibility while reducing unnecessary travel expenses.

Region	Clinician Resources	Program Delivery
Western PEI	2 elite players employed as summer students	Circulated between O'Leary, Ellerslie and Tignish, delivering development camps and game days. Having dedicated Western clinicians reduced mileage costs and significantly increased opportunities for players in the region.

Central & Eastern PEI	5 clinicians, ranging from provincial team players to experienced Senior Islanders players	Delivered a wide variety of development camps, team training and specialized instruction. These clinicians also travelled west to support larger camps or provide coverage when Western clinicians were unavailable.
Souris	1 additional locally based clinician	Primarily responsible for field preparation, while also providing Rally Cap development opportunities in the area. These additional development activities were not included in our official camp and attendance totals.

Camp Programming & Participation

Our clinicians provided development opportunities for players of all ages and abilities, from Rally Cap through High Performance.

Program Area	Description
General Skill Development	Age-specific camps focusing on fundamental baseball skills and overall player development.
Specialized Instruction	Pitching, hitting, defensive strategies and position-specific skill development.
Team Development	Dedicated training sessions designed to support individual teams and their specific development needs.
Open-Registration Camps	Development opportunities open to individual players from across local associations.
Girls-Only Camps	Regular sessions designed to encourage female participation and provide a welcoming environment for girls of all experience levels, including those new to baseball.
Western Game Days	Additional opportunities for players in the Western region to develop skills through game-based activities.
Weekly Association Camps	Five associations hosted weekly development programming, scheduling three consecutive hours of camps for three different age groups. This represented our highest level of association participation in this initiative to date.

Rally Cap Development & Coach Support

In addition to our summer clinic programming, Baseball PEI employed a dedicated Rally Cap Coordinator through a subsidy provided by Baseball Canada.

The Coordinator worked directly with Rally Cap teams and coaches in local associations across the province, providing on-field support and assisting our clinicians when delivering camps for Rally Cap age groups.

The role also extended beyond on-field instruction, with the Coordinator providing weekly practice plans and coach development resources to help local coaches deliver quality, age-appropriate programming throughout the season.

This dedicated position provided valuable support to our youngest players while strengthening the resources and development opportunities available to the volunteer coaches who deliver Rally Cap programming in their communities.

Program Growth & Impact

The 2026 program represented a significant step forward in our ability to deliver accessible player development throughout PEI.

Having seven travelling clinicians allowed us to deliver camps in multiple locations simultaneously, while dedicated Western clinicians improved access to programming in that region and reduced travel costs.

Our partnership with five local associations to deliver weekly development camps also demonstrated a growing commitment to making structured player development a regular part of local programming.

The addition of a dedicated Rally Cap Coordinator further strengthened our development model by providing direct support to our youngest players while equipping volunteer coaches with practical resources and ongoing instructional support.

With 142 camps completed and just under 1,500 player attendances, 2026 represents our highest annual camp delivery and participation totals to date.

Funding & Acknowledgements

All Baseball PEI development clinics and camps are offered free of charge to participants, ensuring that families can access quality instruction without additional financial barriers.

We sincerely thank Skills PEI, Jobs for Youth, Canada Summer Jobs and the Province of Prince Edward Island for their financial support of our clinic and camp programs.

We also extend our thanks to Baseball Canada for its subsidy supporting our dedicated Rally Cap Coordinator, helping us provide additional on-field instruction, weekly practice plans and coach development resources to associations across the province.

Together with Baseball PEI's investment, these partnerships allow us to provide accessible, quality baseball development opportunities for players of all ages and abilities while supporting the coaches and volunteers who deliver these programs in their communities.
